

RANJAN MUKHERJEE

Speaker, Traveler and Writer

Presents

- Nepal: Mountains, Jungles and Temples
- India: Lions, Tigers and the Taj Mahal

Ranjan speaks of his adventures in the jungles of Nepal and India tracking and photographing rhinos, tigers and lions, the lure of the world's highest peaks and the first, breath-taking view of the Taj Mahal. Hear it from a master story teller.

Each slide presentation is suitable for libraries, retirement communities, schools, cultural and travel groups, history and geography societies and social clubs. Presentations (50-60 mins) are fun, informative and followed by Q and A sessions.

Nepal: Mountains, Jungles and Temples

In December 2014, I took an eight day solo trip to Nepal and visited Kathmandu, Pokhara and Chitwan National Forest. This presentation will take you on a virtual tour. See the beauty of Annapurna at sunrise. Feel the thrill of an elephant safari as we seek the rare, one horned rhino. Float in a dugout canoe down a river with crocodiles basking on the banks, and see the ancient temples of Kathmandu, many of which were destroyed in the recent earthquake. You will also see glimpses of life in this ancient land as it adjusts to the modern world.

India: Lions, Tigers and the Taj Mahal

Visit the Gir Forest, last stronghold of the Asian Lion. Gaze at the sheer beauty and perfect symmetry of the Taj Mahal. Enter an imposing fort on an elephant. Feel your pulse quicken as we close in on the rare, elusive Royal Bengal Tiger. It will be an unforgettable journey.

Testimonials

The Rotary Club of Willow Grove found Ranjan's travelogue to Nepal absolutely enchanting. It was an exciting journey in pictures and words, almost like being there.

Ranjan's presentation was well illustrated and his speaking style is very engaging and down to earth. Mixing facts with humor, Ranjan kept the whole audience rapt with attention and always interested in what he was speaking about. This is the second program that Ranjan has presented for the library and we look forward to having him return with another program sometime in the near future.
